

Aliyah	Etz	Book	Reader
Kohein(Rishon)	564	Exodus 38:21-38:23	Laurie Katz
Levi(Sheni)	564-565	Exodus 38:24-38:27	Laurie Katz
Shlishi	565	Exodus 38:28-39:1	Laurie Katz	Aufruf of Shaina Bernstein and Jonathon Ruegg
Revi'i	565-566	Exodus 39:2-39:7	Laurie Katz
Chamishi	566	Exodus 39:8-39:14	Cantor Stephen Freedman
Shishi	566	Exodus 39:15-39:18	Cantor Stephen Freedman
Shevi'i	566-567	Exodus 39:19-39:21	Cantor Stephen Freedman
When the Torah reader concludes a book of the Torah: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Close the Torah scroll.</li> <li>2. For Oleh: Congregation chants חֲזַק חֲזַק וְנִתְחַזַּק hazak hazak venithazzek; oleh remains silent.</li> <li>For Olah: Congregation chants חִזְקִי חִזְקִי וְנִתְחַזַּק hizki hizki venithazzek; olah remains silent.</li> <li>3. Torah reader repeats congregation's words (oleh/olah remains silent; if Torah reader is the oleh/olah, omit this repetition).</li> <li>4. Open the Torah scroll.</li> <li>5. The oleh/olah kisses the Torah scroll, closes it, and continues with the usual concluding berakhah.</li> </ol>
Maftir	566-567	Exodus 39:19-39:21	Cantor Stephen Freedman
Haftarah	574-575	I Kings 7:40-50	Jan Hurwitz

Announcements

Thank everyone who helped with services. Show the Celebrate!
March 16, Havdalah @ 7:50 pm

- Purim Megillat Esther reading on the evening of March 23rd.
Dessert at 7:00 pm. Havdalah and Megillah reading starts at 7:58 pm. Come in person and come in costume! Pick up your Mishloach Manot bag on March 20-22 during office hours.
- Adult Ed class - Hybrid on alternate Mondays, 12-1 pm continues March 25th.
Understanding Torah through the teachings of Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks z"l
- Please sign up using the SignupGenius links in the weekly email for days you plan to attend services.

Friday evening Sign Up

Saturday Morning Sign Up

- Hamas Hostage Profile: David Cunio, 26

From pbs.org: Standing in the ruins of her home in the Nir Oz farming village on the Gaza border, Sharon Alony Cunio gazed at the skyline of Khan Younis, the Palestinian city where Hamas militants dragged her more than three months ago. Her husband, David, remains captive in Gaza. He's kilometers away but completely out of reach.

Cunio and her 3-year-old twins were released from Gaza on Nov. 27. They are physically healthy, safe. But she can't stop thinking about her husband's last words to her. He was skinny and frail, wounded in the leg, as the family embraced for a final time in captivity.

"Fight for me. Don't give up," she said he told her. "Please yell what I cannot yell. I'm scared as hell."

<https://apnews.com/article/israel-hamas-gaza-war-hostages-cunio-captivity-869241bb259b00a8f98817edf89b0bc8>

- Hamas Hostage Profile: Alex Dancyg, 75

The last time Alex Dancyg's family heard from him was around 8:30 a.m. on October 7, when he was speaking with his son Mati from his home on Kibbutz Nir Oz, which lies just a few kilometers east of the southern Gaza Strip.

Alex was born in Warsaw, Poland in 1948 to survivors of the Holocaust. In 1957, he and his family immigrated to Israel. He started a family on Kibbutz Nir-Oz, raising three children. He is a historian, a contributor to Yad Vashem Holocaust museum, known for educating thousands of children on the Holocaust and Poland's Jewish History there. He is also a farmer, and an active advocate of Polish-Jewish dialogue. In late October, hostages freed from Gaza confirmed that Alex was alive and said that he was being held in underground tunnels where he gives history lectures to fellow captives.

"He's an incredibly intelligent, but incredibly caring person. I can't wait for him to be released so he can see all of these people who care about him." Said one of the many advocates for his release.