Do you know Unaffiliated Jews in Chester County, Montgomery County and Delaware County?

Do you have Jewish friends or acquaintances who live in Chester County, Montgomery County and Delaware County who are not already members of a synagogue? If you do, why not invite them to one of the upcoming events at Or Shalom. They may have a good time and decide to come back. They may have such a good time that they decide to become members themselves. According to a recent survey by the Jewish Federation, there are many, many unaffiliated Jews in Chester county. We'd love to contact them, but don't know who they are. You can help.

Members of Or Shalom are so fortunate to have LP (Lauren Porter) as our Administrator. For those who do not interact with her, she prefers to be called LP rather than Lauren. How did she get that nickname? Well, when she started working at GE there was another Lauren so she started having people call her LP. Her family still calls her Lauren or Auntie L.

A little background:

Lauren grew up in Bala Cynwyd and graduated from Harriton High School.

She had two sisters, one of whom passed away from Parkinson's. Her surviving sister lives in New Paltz, New York.

LP has traveled throughout her life – She visited Norway for her 22nd birthday. She has been to Switzerland, Club Med Guadeloupe and two trips to the Virgin Islands on a 64 foot ketch with a bunch of friends.

Hobbies include needlepoint, Maroon 5, reading mysteries and gardening. Her love of Maroon 5 is evident with her love of tattoos.

Lauren started her career as Office Administrator at Republic Steel Corporation, where she worked for 16 years. She then worked at GE Capital Modular Space in 1983 and moved to the IT division until 2009 when she was laid off. She was then retired but bored. She knows Larry Bilker from her tenure at GE and contacted him to see if he knew any part-time jobs. The timing was great and the rest is history. LP started working at Or Shalom in 2014 and is still going strong.

LP goes beyond the normal hours at Or Shalom. She has the ability (thanks to Larry Bilker and his IT knowledge) to work from home. She is incredibly diligent at viewing her emails and sending out notices in the evenings or on a weekend after Shabbat. One Saturday, when the weather was bad, she sent an email early in the day to alert us that Shabbat services would only be on Zoom. I have been a member of Or Shalom for quite a long time, and LP is one of the most dedicated Administrators we have ever employed. For those of you who have been members a long time, Lou Lieberman, who worked as a volunteer, was also an Office Manager extraordinaire.

There are many people LP interacts with on a daily basis. Her responsibilities are endless – from answering the phone to sending out emails, weekly updates, finances, service people, etc. I am certain it is difficult to have many “bosses” but she is always pleasant. Congratulations on over a decade of service!

"The Psalms - Timeless Poetry"

I have a confession to make: I am not a lover of poetry. Well, that's not exactly true. If it rhymes and is geared toward children, then I'm right there! (Think Shel Silverstein, Dr. Seuss, etc.)

I find most poetry to be too abstract, too obtuse for me to appreciate.

But when it comes to the Book of Psalms, these sacred poems speak to me in profound ways.

I especially love those psalms which are so vividly descriptive, especially as they relate to nature.

One example is Psalm 29,; we read it on Shabbat evening and morning. It describes the power of God, a power that is defined by God's mastery over nature. With just a voice, God has the power to shatter the cedars of Lebanon, to make trees dance like calves, to form flames of fire, to thunder over the waters. It's pretty powerful imagery!

In Psalm 147, God is described as the One "who covers the earth with clouds providing rain for the earth, that grass may flourish on the hillsides — food for livestock and for the ravens' crying nestlings." And later in the text, "...how quickly God's commands are obeyed: snow piles up like fleece, frost spreads like ash, hailstones are tossed like crumbs — who could withstand the cold?"

That last part sounds an awful lot like this past week's forecast, doesn't it?!? As I'm writing this message, I hear the pelting of sleet on the windows and skylights of our home and feel that ice-cold wind each time I open the door to check on how much snow has fallen.

And I'm struck by how the words of this psalm especially come alive, how easy it is for us to relate to the meteorological conditions it describes. (For those of you who are "snowbirds," perhaps less so!"

It's a reminder to all of us that if we really examine the texts of our prayers and our holy writings, we're bound to find clear connections to our world in 2026.

So even though I don't like poetry in general, I love the sacred poetry composed by King David and others thousands of years ago. Their words ring as true today as they did when they were written.

Gazan Captivity - A Survivor's Story

A few evenings ago, I had the honor and privilege of attending a testimony by Omer Wenkert, an Israeli hostage who was released from Gaza, after 505 days of captivity. Today, he is 23 years old. He was barely 21 when he was captured.

For one gut-wrenching hour, Omer described his experiences, first how he arrived with his friend Kim Damti (aged 22) at the Nova dance party at 3am on October 7 2023; then fleeing the site a few hours later when explosions were heard, only to witness a barrage of rockets from Gaza that forced them to hunker down in a bomb shelter a few miles down the road. Over 20 others squeezed into the same shelter, which was designed for less than 10 people. Terrorists discovered them there and attacked them with hand grenades, automatic weapons, and smoke bombs. Omer's friend Kim was killed. Miraculously, he survived but was captured by the attackers. Thus began a long captivity that ended on February 22, 2025.

He related the harrowing conditions in which he was held in Hamas's tunnels, saying they worsened during the Israeli offensive on Rafah, in southern Gaza, in May 2024. The terrorists intentionally starved him, feeding him a half a pita a day for two or three weeks. They did things that seriously endangered his life, for fun. One terrorist stood him up and sprayed insect repellent in his face, with his eyes open. His captor also sprayed everything he would touch. On another occasion, he was beaten with an iron rod, on his arms, legs, and even his head. When he asked his captor why he was doing this, since he, Wenkert, had not caused any harm, he was told that the IDF had killed the terrorist's father, someone who had been an important figure in Hamas.

At first, Wenkert was imprisoned (underground of course) with an 18 year old who had a bullet wound in his stomach. He and his fellow captive were beaten, severely and often. That lasted about a month.

Then he was completely isolated for six and a half months. During this time, his captors would only approach him occasionally. He said that around the 80th day of his captivity, he was moved from one underground corridor to another, which he described as "a dark room with a little lamp".

"They tried to drive me crazy — to damage my sense of time," he said. "When they put down food for me, they told me to turn around, so they could leave. Bathing was once in 50 days, with a little bottle. Only after nine and a half months did I bathe for real."

RITUAL COMMITTEE NEWS

The tunnel in which he was kept for most of his captivity was about 35 inches wide, and about 30 feet long, with a hole as a bathroom.

"I was on a small mattress, with my back against the wall. I was there for 420 days, I think," he said. On June 13, 2024, his captors brought fellow hostages Evyatar David and Guy Gilboa-Dalal to the corridor in which Wenkert was kept. His mental state improved tremendously with their arrival. Even though it became more crowded in the tunnel and he had to split the same small amount food and water with them, he loved the company. Also, the abuse stopped. Somehow, the captives got hold of a pack of cards and played a Gazan game similar to rummy. They even played chess with the cards, drawing a board in the sand which was the floor of the tunnel. A king was a king, a queen was a queen, a 10 was a knight and so on. When they became bored with these games, they began a series of "movie nights". The person whose turn it was would pick a movie or series that he loved and would describe it to the others in great detail. For example, the retelling of a one and a half hour Harry Potter movie took 6 hours and had to be spread over two nights.

SOCIAL ACTION NEWS

What Would George and Abe Do?

Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society (HIAS) Refugee Shabbat: March 13-14, 2024

Refugee Shabbat is an invitation for congregations, organizations, and individuals to express their solidarity with the global Jewish movement for refugee protection and welcome.

People seeking asylum are being turned away at borders around the world. The number of forcibly displaced people has grown to over 110 million. Worse, the growing impact of climate change exacerbates the effects of violence, conflict, and economic instability on already vulnerable populations.

This is a critical moment for all of us to reaffirm and redouble our support for refugees, asylum seekers, and the forcibly displaced, and an opportunity to step back, reflect, and celebrate the work we have already done.
